General Comment

The proposal in the new Health Care plan to offer contraception at no cost to the patient/client, I believe is very important. This will help to prevent unwanted pregnancies that, in a significant number of women, lead to children that are neglected and/or abused. Many of these women also end up on our welfare rolls. The cost of the contraception is much less than supporting all of these, initially, unwanted children.

This proposal does not force a woman to use contraception; it only offers them a choice. It is still the choice of a woman to use contraception or not to use it.
